ICMI ACCE 2010 Conference Program Helps Contact Center Professionals to Improve Center Performance

Annual global gathering for the contact center community to be held June 14-17 in New Orleans

Colorado Springs, CO --- April 28, 2010 --- Produced by The International Customer Management Institute (ICMI), the ACCE Conference & Expo, the premier annual global gathering for the contact center community, has announced its 2010 conference program. Taking place at the Sheraton New Orleans Hotel in New Orleans on June 14-17, 2010, the event will bring contact center professionals together to discover how to improve center performance by better managing people and resources, improving operations, and properly selecting and implementing technology.

ACCE 2010 will offer a comprehensive educational program, with a newly added track, “Social Media in the Contact Center,” and 90 percent new content. Additional core programming tracks include “Improving Operational Effectiveness,” “Strategic Leadership in Action,” “The Power of People,” and “Today’s Technology - and Tomorrow’s,” Additionally, ACCE will include a full day of pre-conference workshops addressing critical issues specific to contact centers, and a post-conference program that includes the choice of a full day workshop, hands-on lab, or small call center-specific summit. Pre-conference summits are included with All-Access or Premium Conference Packages, while an All-Access Package is needed to attend post-conference activities.

“We are now living in a world that consists of more calls, more complex, from more channels – with higher customer expectations and higher consequences,” said Joy Sobhani, Conference Director for ICMI Events. “With this in mind we have created an educational program that addresses these concerns and provides actionable solutions. The ACCE program contains the critical information all individuals involved with contact centers need when implementing new strategies within their contact centers.”

Keynote speakers will include John Foley of CenterPoint Companies who will present “High Performance Climb®” and Sally Hogshead, Speaker, Author and Brand Innovation Consultant who will deliver “Fascinate! The Seven Secret Triggers of Persuasion and Influence.”

Session leaders and panelists will provide valuable insight into how to improve a center’s performance by better managing people and resources, improving operations, properly selecting and implementing technology. Best-practice case studies from leading organizations including Disney Reservation Center, USAA, Allstate Financial, Bell Atlantic, and Chase.

In addition, top industry technology vendors will present their tools and technologies in the ACCE 2010 Exhibit Hall at the event.

ACCE 2010 is presented by ICMI, one of the contact center industry’s most respected organizations. To register to attend this event, or to find out more about the conference, media registration, and exhibition opportunities, please visit <http://www.icmi.com/ACCE2010>.
